Three For the Sea

We will continue our exploration of the ocean. Children will continue to play and experiment freely with water, salt water and sand along with many fun activities, fingerplays, and songs. They will also be able to express themselves creatively in activities ranging from pantomiming fish movements to finger painting seascapes.

May DLM Unit
Snap Crackle Jump

Whisper, scream, shout, sing. Stomp, tiptoe, march, wiggle. Imagine being asked to do all those things in a school! No wonder the children enjoy this unit. In exploring sound and movement, almost every subject applies. Animal communication, music, storytelling, dance, marching and modes of transportation all can be found in this unit. Both sound and movement can be put into patterns. Our senses can identify, copy, and alter by thinking creatively as they combine their physical energy and creativity to celebrate the joy of sound and movement.

May Math Unit
One-to-One Correspondence

One-to-one correspondence is matching or pairing items in a one-to-one relationship. These activities will lead children naturally into ordering sets (arranging sets according to size). Matching and pairing items help children to practice, develop and internalize accurate vocabulary. Understanding terms like greater than, less than and equivalent lays a foundation for skills children will need when they begin working with numbers. Understanding one-to-one correspondence will prevent counting errors.
